

My Personal Testimony

Hi my name is Rose and I just want to testify about the awesomeness of Jesus. In 2003 I was bound by a horrible addiction of crack cocaine. This drug had me in bondage as if I was literally being held down, feeling captured in a place of hopelessness and despair. I did not want to live because the adversary would tell me there was no way I would be free and what was the use anyways. Being in bondage to this caused me to make crazy decisions that I am not proud of today. When Jesus came and set me free I was in the moment of thinking, what is there to live for in this life I am existing in, I went into my room and started talking to God. Telling him how I was in this horrible pit and hated being here and if he would take a hold of my hand and pull me out of it. I promise I would never look back!! Hallelujah I am still pressing on today! God came into my life that day and broke the bondage of addiction off of my life. I have never been the same and my life was restored, joy entered my soul and salvation came and made me whole. I have lived to tell the world that Jesus is the answer for all of life's problems, circumstances and situation. I am a firm believer that as deep of a depth that I was in, in my addiction it couldn't been done without the help of Jesus because I did try and seek help other places and they couldn't help for whatever reason! But God, he is a very present help in the time of trouble, he rescued me! I have been set free!! Amen!!
